

The Union.

JUNCTION, SATURDAY, JAN. 10, 1863.

THE CASH MUST INvariably ACCOMPANY LEGAL ADVERTISEMENTS.

WILEY has received large additions to his stock of goods, and is rapidly disposing of them.

JUNCTION has now a singing school in running order. Hersey superintends.

GENERAL BLUNT has been nominated by the President a Major General.

The remains of Captain CLARK arrived at Fort Riley last Thursday evening, and will be buried this afternoon with Masonic and military honors.

A letter has been received from PHILLOS, but too late for this week. It will lose none of its interest by next.

A Union church was formed last Sabbath, and the first communion partaken of. The Rev. WILLIAM TODD is pastor.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement of John Piper & Co., of Manhattan. They have everything requisite to meet the wants of Western Kansas, and withal are gentlemen pleasant to deal with.

TOWLE & PURITON have opened a new blacksmith shop in town, at Kern's old stand. This will be more convenient to our farmers, as one shop was unable to supply the demand for such work.

Senator Strickler, and Representative Miller, of Dickinson, left last Thursday for the State Capital. Representative Gordon sits to-day. They refused to join the Good Templars previous to starting—say they're going to represent us or "bust," which is a slur on this country.

Mud-Sills, now G. company, Tenth Kansas, suffered as follows in the battle of Prairie Grove: Killed—Charles Kyer. Wounded—1st Sergeant G. Wohlwend, shoulder slightly; Corporal L. Hastings, side, severely; Corporal W. C. Harris, elbow, slightly; John Burris, breast, slightly; R. F. Young, leg, slightly.

At the School Meeting, held last Wednesday evening, the vote levying a tax of one per cent. in this District for school purposes was reconsidered, and one-half the tax rescinded. The tax is now one-half per cent, and to be devoted to the maintenance of a school only. The idea of building is therefore dropped for the present.

The storeroom of Stricker & Strickler has of late been so beautifully replenished, as to partake more of a wholesale establishment. Loads of goods continually arrive, which indicates an extensive business. Their building is packed with the best and most complete assortment of everything needed in any market.

NEW YEAR'S AT MANHATTAN.—All accounts agree regarding the handsome style in which passed off the festivities at this place. The oration was delivered at two o'clock by Mr. Sanford. The Ladies' Fair in the evening was a complete success, and the proceedings of the entire day highly creditable to those in charge. The ladies realized between one and two hundred dollars for the benefit of the Baptist church.

MARRIED.—In the Methodist Episcopal church, at Manhattan, by Rev. Mr. Beckwith, of the Congregational church, E. H. Sanford to Mary J. St. John, of Manhattan.

At the residence of Mr. Furrow, January 4th, by the Rev. J. O. Foreman, Mr. Elias Mostack and Miss Rebecca Bowers, both of Davis county.

In this city, on the 8th inst., by G. F. Gordon, Esq., ALBERT WAGNER and MARY ULRICH, both of Junction.

We neglected last week to speak of the Masonic festivities in this city on the 27th ult. Mr. Mostack delivered a highly interesting oration, briefly reciting the history of Masonry from the days of antiquity down, embracing statistical evidences of its rise and progress, and recounting the blessings it casts around, winding up with an excellent defence against the imputations of its enemies. Quite a number remained in the Hall, and pleasantly whiled away a few hours in the mazes of the dance.

CAPTAIN CHARLES F. CLARK.—We find the following notice of this lamented Soldier in the Leavenworth Times:

"The body of Captain Clarke, 6th Kansas Volunteers, and A. A. G. on General Denver's staff, arrived in this city yesterday from Tennessee. The coffin was placed in an ambulance, and, draped with the National flag, was escorted through the city by Captain Stout's company of the 3d Wisconsin cavalry. The remains of the gallant Captain are now on their way to Fort Riley, where his family reside.

"We learn that the death of Captain Clarke was sudden, resulting from an accidental poisoning. He was well known by many of our citizens, and by his fellow soldiers he has always been respected and esteemed. He had served two enlistments in the regular army, previous to the breaking out of the war, as regimental Q. M. Sergeant of Cavalry, and was held in the highest regard by those who knew and were associated with him in the army.

In a letter from "Byron" we learn of the following additional unfortunates from this neighborhood: "John Thompson, of Manhattan, will hardly survive his wounds; Eggleston, of Junction, slightly wounded." Speaking of the sanctified horror affected by the people when Union troops enter their corn-fields on Sunday, he gives us the following, which is a fair sample of the murderous bludgeoning propensities of the same people: "A young man by the name of John Davis, of Riley county, who enlisted last September in C company, was waylaid by these miscreants a short time since, and instantly killed. He was much esteemed by his comrades." There seems to be some doubt about the death of John Miller, noticed last week; Byron says he is only wounded. The letter closes as follows: "Your humble correspondent is now confined within the narrow limits of a hospital (not a cell), severely but not dangerously wounded, trying to console himself with the very soothing reflection that the rights of our Government will be fully established, and this war will cease."

THE BAND OF HOPE.—Herewith is the pledge required of the youngster who unite with this Band. We understand it will be organized to-morrow, in Sabbath-school:

A pledge we make
No wine to take,
Nor whiskey hot,
That makes the sot—
Nor fiery rum,
That ruins home.
Nor will we sin
By drinking gin—
Hard cider too
Will never do;
Nor brewer's beer
Our hearts shall cheer—
For these to taste,
The drunkard's haste,
And I would not
Become a sot.
So here we pledge perpetual hate
To all that can intoxicate.

DIED.—On the 20th of November, 1862, in Brush Valley, Indiana county, Pennsylvania, JOHN MARTIN, Sr., grandfather of the junior editor of this paper. He was well-advanced in years, and one of the early Scotch-Irish pioneers of that section of country. His daily walk and conversation being fully up to the rigid notions of the Old Covenanters, he has gone to enjoy that repose in realms on high, prepared only for those who do His will.
